"Rebuilding Our World"

REV. JOHN HAYNES HOLMES
OF THE COMMUNITY CHURCH, NEW YORK CITY

Church of the Messiah

Sunday, Feb. 18th, 8.15 p.m.

Beginning at 8.00 p.m.

YOU ARE INVITED

TO DISCUSS UNIVERSITY UNEMPLOYED

Measures of Relief to Be Proposed

AT MOCK PARLIAMENT

On Wednesday Next, February Twenty-Second

Parliamentary activities at McGill for the present session are fast drawing to a close, and so it is with interest that the student electorate is awaiting the meeting to be held next Wednesday, February 22, in the Union. However, the chief reason why unusual concern is in evidence may be largely attributed to the fact that the Revolutionary Party would appear to be firmly established in power; the government was overwhelmed at the last gathering on the issue of motion-picture censorship, and by the number which then occupied the cross-benches would seem to have a very meager chance of reasserting itself, unless a coalition be decided upon between it and the former Liberal opposition.

It is persistently rumored that the Revolutionists purpose introducing a bill for the relief of the unemployed who at present throng our streets. The methods that they propose to employ to carry out their schemes should be of even greater importance than the introduction of the measure. The choice for leadership in the new party will probably be between Jones and Amaron, either of whom may be asked to form a cabinet. The man to guide the opposition is as yet unknown, but his name and that of the speaker will be printed at a later date.

The merits of the Mock Parliament need not be enlarged upon in these columns; the greater part of McGill has taken an active share in its proceedings and requires no invitation to be on hand next Wednesday—as for the rest, it is a pretty safe hazard that they will be out in force and that the coming session will be in no wise eclipsed by those preceding it.

"REBUILDING OUR WORLD"

An opportunity to hear one of the most distinguished preachers in the United States will be given at the public meeting next Sunday evening at 8.15 in the Church of the Messiah, Sherbrooke Street West and Simpson St., when Rev. John Haynes Holmes of New York will speak on "Rebuilding Our World." Mr. Holmes, while still in his twenties, was called to New York to fill the pulpit of the Church of the Messiah, made vacant by the breakdown of Dr. Minot Savage. He has preached in this important church for more than fifteen years and has gained a wide reputation for his eloquence. A few years ago Mr. Holmes began the Community Church movement and the Church of the Messiah became the Community Church of New York City. Mr. Holmes is a graduate of Harvard College (B.A., 1902), and of Harvard Divinity School (S.T.B., 1905). He is the author of a number of books and the editor of "Unity," a weekly paper published in Chicago. In addition to his address Sunday evening Mr. Holmes will preach at morning service in the Church of the Messiah at 11 o'clock on "What does it mean to love God?" The evening meeting will be preceded by an Organ Prelude at 8 o'clock by George M. Brewer, F.A.G.O.

RECITAL BY MEMBERS OF MUSIC STAFF

Varied Program by Faculty of Music

RECENT MUSIC

Convocation Hall Well Filled at Second Staff Recital

J. Ireland's Phantasia in A minor was the outstanding number on the programme of the staff recital given before a large gathering of admirers in Convocation Hall last night. The trio for the piano, violin and viola, was performed by Dr. Perrin, Miss Brant and Miss Lamontagne whose interpretative rendering on the three instruments was truly gratifying to hear.

This recital of the McGill University Conservatorium of Music was the second to be given during the present session and was as much of a success as others given by the professoriate of that faculty. Dean Perrin before the concert began had two announcements to make. The first was to make known the fact that Mrs. Stackhouse, who was to have given several violin selections, found it impossible to be present and that Prof. Brant at a late hour had very kindly agreed to take her place. The second note was to point out a few interesting facts about the life and work of John Ireland whose Phantasia was one of the important pieces to be played. To illustrate his remarks about this recent composer, the Dean chose several brief examples from his works which he played before an attentive audience.

The first item was a violoncello solo by Miss Yvonne Lamontagne who was accompanied by Miss Clara Lichtenstein on the piano. Her masterly playing of Galliard's Sonata, a major was one of the most enjoyable solos at this recital.

Mr. Hugh McEachran's two piano-forte solos were taken from the compositions of Liszt and well indicated the work of that noted writer of music.

Prof. Brant in every number he participated proved his scholar ability. Mr. Brant in filling the place of Mrs. Stackhouse did so at short notice so that his excellent work is all the more creditable. The spirited interpretation of Kreisler's "Liebesleid" was a violin solo not soon to be forgotten nor the accompaniment of Miss Lichtenstein.

INTERESTING LECTURE BY DEAN ADAMS

Evolution of the Crust of the Earth

MANY SLIDES

One of a Series Delivered Before Natural History Soc.

The feature of the meeting of the Natural History Society held last night in the Physics building was an address by Dean Adams on "The Evolution of the crust of the earth." The lecture room was filled to capacity, the ability of Dr. Adams as a lecturer being well known.

Dr. Porter the chairman opened the meeting with a few words on the purpose of the Course of Lectures on Evolution, mentioning the universality of the interest in Evolution and development. Each lecturer specialized in one particular field with which he was competent to deal. Dr. Eve began with a lecture on the infinitesimal atom. Prof. Gillson followed on the subject of the tremendous masses of the universe. It was the purpose of Dr. Adams' lecture to bring together and correlate these two extremities of the subject. Dr. Adams based his subject on the question: "Have we the earth in a finished condition or does it have a creative evolution?"

The ordinary person of to-day regards the components of the crust of the earth as inanimate and permanent objects. The old Greeks had very different ideas in their minds. Many inanimate things such as oceans, rivers, mountains, etc., were endowed with life.

In the middle ages the thoughts about evolution were confined to fanciful pictures depicting the creation of the world. No useful scientific work was done because their fundamental idea as to the shape of the earth was wrong. It was not until the Renaissance Period that the scientists really began to study the world.

By means of lantern slides Dr. Adams showed the evolution of the crust of the earth. At one time the earth was entirely covered by water but in the process of time the land has gradually heaved out of the sea. This is exemplified by the structure of mountains all over the world. In Scandinavia there are sea beaches as much as one hundred feet above sea level. In the valley of the Colorado river are thousands of strata, consisting of beds of sandstone, showing the different periods in the process of the heaving up. This is also shown in the Alps, the Rockies, and even in the Laurentians. The strata are often found folded up and kneaded into countless patterns. A section of the Alps showed this particularly well.

Besides being added to by upheavals of the bed of the sea, the earth's crust is constantly being increased by volcanic eruptions. There are many such in the world and tremendous quantities of lava emanate therefrom.

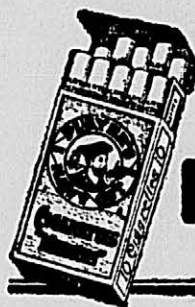

The earth's crust is also being constantly destroyed. This is shown by the "V" shape of river valleys. The water cuts deeper and deeper into the bed of the river and the banks are slowly worn down by the action of the weather. The material is washed down into the river and carried away towards the sea. At the mouth of the river this waste is deposited and huge deltas are often formed. Egypt, the delta of the Nile, was formed in this way and it is a very fertile country.

The decay and desintegration of the earth's crust take place above the snow line as well as in the river valleys. Where the bottom of the sea has been raised up some sixteen thousand feet the wearing down process is carried on by moving masses of ice, glaciers. The glaciers on account of their

THE HOCKEY TONIGHT

The hockey game tonight will be the big chance of the winter season for the rooters to show their value as supporters of McGill teams. The team is meeting the strongest contenders in the Intercollegiate Union and will need the support of every man in the University.

The University of Montreal is sending 250 rooters and a band to cheer the McGill team on in the crucial game.

There will be 200 girls wearing the red "tams" in the rooters' sections tonight.

There will have to be every possible man from McGill on hand to keep up the standard set by the women and the French students.

"Teedles" Thompson will have charge of the rooters at one end of the Mount Royal Arena. Joe Wain will lead the cheers at the other end of the rink. Both ends will be packed to capacity by men and women rooting for McGill.

A SCHEDULE COMMITTEE

It is an undoubted fact that the undergraduates are rather proud that they have complete control over their athletic activities and would fight hard before they would give up any of their authority. It is, similarly, a fact that the men in charge of the various clubs and societies about the college are jealous of the power they have and do not wish interference from the central student authorities. The result is that the individuals work much harder for their respective organizations but that they are quite often working at cross purposes with other clubs when they should, for their own good, be working together.

This session there has been a noticeable number of clashes among the organizations about the universities concerning the dates on which they intended to hold their meetings or have their competitions. Definite dates have been announced for events only to be cancelled shortly afterwards when it was found that the same date had been set for another equally important happening. In some cases, there have been clashes in dates that have caused more than one major activity to seek the attention of the students on the same day.

Before Christmas the officers of the Literary and Debating Society announced that the Mock Parliament could not be held for a long time to come, owing to the fact that the dates they had fixed for its meetings were dates chosen also by other organizations. On last Saturday evening the hockey and boxing representatives of McGill were both seeking the attendance of the students at exhibitions given by them, owing to the fact that the executives of both clubs had fixed the date, in ignorance of the fact that the same time had been chosen for the two athletic events.

For the first time in many years there will be a simultaneous appearance of two Intercollegiate teams in Montreal and both of them will be competing with McGill representatives. This will happen tonight when the hockey game between McGill and Toronto will take place at the same time as the Intercollegiate swimming competition. This is regrettable from the point of view of both competitors and spectators.

McGill is not big enough to have its attention directed to numerous events at the same time. As a matter of fact, the main hope of success in the students' activities lies in the fact that the undergraduate body is united behind every man who represents the university. Under the present condition of affairs this is not possible.

Would it not be better for each of the organizations in the college to give up a little authority to the central body in order to secure co-operation among all of them? A "Schedule Committee" of the Students' Council could be given power to allot the dates on which events could take place and thereby avoid future clashes. Such a committee should at least have control over the dates to be fixed by organizations appealing to the whole student body for support.

In the majority of the universities the position of "graduate manager" has been formed to unify the athletic control. This has been suggested for McGill but has not been adopted and the confusion continues. Even a graduate manager of athletics could not keep control over the activities not included in the program of sport. The Students' Council is the only central body in the university; it is the business of that group of men to devise some means for eliminating future unnecessary clashes.

SIGN A NOMINATION.

There is only a week remaining in which nomination papers may be circulated for the important offices on the Students' Council. Groups of students have already started to work at securing as many signatories as possible to the nomination papers of their favorites, while the names of many others are being mentioned as possible candidates.

It is the duty of every student to carefully choose the men whom he thinks should hold the offices, and then make an expression of his opinion. There cannot be too many candidates; nothing is less desirable than acclamations.

BRAIN VS. BRAWN

"If there were as many trained minds in our colleges," said a well known editor the other day, "as there are trained bodies, we would call our colleges a tremendous success." This statement was made in a discussion of the place which intercollegiate athletics have assumed in school affairs the past few years.

A trained mind is a disciplined mind, just as a trained body is a disciplined body, but there are surprisingly few disciplined minds to be found in our colleges in comparison with the trained bodies. Thousands of athletes are spending hours a day in building up a physique which will stand up under the gruelling test of football or basketball games. Conscientious effort, which consists chiefly of dieting, sleeping and the routine of training, is building up a better manhood physically throughout the country.

This conscientious effort comes in part through the self-discipline of the individual, but today schools demand that a man with athletic ability devote the greater part of his time to athletics. There is, of course, a certain minimum of regular scholastic work, which must be accompanied but it is well to bear in mind that it is a minimum in most cases. The mental discipline which these men get is a trifle compared to the physical discipline which these men have under the supervision of high salaried coaches, many of whom are getting ten or twelve thousand dollars a year. Actually millions of dollars spent annually for the equipment of athletic teams.

The problem of the day, then, in a stimulus which will bring about our colleges seems to be to discover the same conscientious mind training by the students as there is muscle training. Various means of solution have been offered, but none seem to have the necessary popularity to compete with athletics. Many of the wise have given up planning, and put this state of affairs down as a continuation of the case of brain vs. brawn, in which brain must eventually win. It will be a long process to place scholarship at its former heights as the ideal of the colleges, but it must be accomplished if the colleges are going to perform their real function.—Grinnell Scarlet and Black.

GLEE CLUB TO SING ON SUNDAY EVE.

Special Student Service by Mr. Adam

SETTING BY MR. KEY

Glee Club to Take Place of Choir

On Sunday evening next, the nineteenth, the Glee Club will be present at the Special Student Service in Emmanuel Church, Drummond St.

This is one of the regular monthly services, which are given for students and it will be of a character which will render it even more acceptable than ever to the student body.

A special attraction of the evening is that the choir will have a rest and its place will be taken by the McGill Glee Club. A new setting has been composed by Mr. Harold Key, the organist and the director of the Glee Club, for the introit and those who have heard it at practice can vouch for its beauty. All the singing will be led by the club and several anthems will be rendered during the service. The club has been practicing these very carefully under Mr. Key's guidance and have mastered them with a manner that will bring delight to all who hear them singing.

All the hymns will be old favorites so that everyone can join in with a will. The short address which is to be given by the pastor will be of a special character touching upon problems which are very close to the student's heart.

For an organization which has been in existence for such a short time, the Glee Club has shown itself to possess great powers. Already it has provided quartettes for student gatherings which have been received with an immense amount of enthusiasm by all who heard them. A few weeks ago the Club made its first appearance before the public as a body, when it gave a short concert in the Union on a Sunday afternoon. Here again it displayed its abilities in no uncertain manner. To listen to the club once is to wish for another opportunity of doing so.

The great event of the season, however, will take place when the club gives its big concert in March. The date has not been decided upon definitely as yet but it will very probably be March 21st. All details will be given in plenty of time to permit those who have any engagements on the night of the concert to cancel them and attend what promises to be the best representation of student music ever at McGill. The Students' Orchestra is combining with the Glee Club to make the affair a great success. The orchestra has shown its ability in the past and its record speaks for itself. In the new talent which has been discovered and developed in the Glee Club, McGill will be able to hear a concert which will surpass anything which has been rendered here before.

The price of admission will be seventy-five cents for the general public and fifty cents for McGill students. Watch the columns of the Daily for future announcements and be sure to get your ticket as soon as they are put on sale, which will be some time during the next week.

EXCELLENT PAPERS BY HISTORIANS

Two Attempts at Reconstruction

SUCCESSFUL EVENT

L. C. Tombs and A. O. Lloyd Displayed Thorough Treatment

Excellent papers on two attempts at reconstruction were read at a successful meeting of the Historical Club held on Wednesday evening. The President, F. H. Walter was in the chair, and the attendance was the largest this season. The first speaker, L. C. Tombs, read a most interesting paper entitled "The League and Its Work". He displayed a thorough knowledge of the subject, first tracing the attempts to form associations of nations for the preservation of peace from the Greek city states in 386 B.C. to the Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907.

The speaker then told of the institution of the League of Nations, and in a comprehensive manner, gave the main points of the covenant. He followed this up with a review of the work already accomplished by the League, which has dealt with almost every problem, political, economic and humanitarian, though frequently not attracting wide public attention. Notable achievements of the League have been the formation of an International Court of Justice which is now in session at The Hague, the solution of the Upper Silesian question, steps taken for the financial reconstruction of Austria, and the repatriation of 400,000 prisoners of war.

The second speaker, A. O. Lloyd dealt with "Sovietism", a subject little understood but of vital importance in the world today. The speaker spoke in a convincing manner, and showed a clear grasp of the subject, on which he declared no two writers held the same views. At the outset he traced the early attempts at socialism, enlarging on the Russian Revolution of 1905 when the Bolshevik party had its real beginning. He pointed out that Bolshevism and Sovietism were distinctly different, and one could exist without the other. "Bolshevism" means "a majority", while the Soviet system is a government representation by occupations, not by division of territories.

The speaker dwelt on the various congresses under the Soviet system from the rural to the All-Russia Congress. This system is extremely complex and difficult to comprehend. No property owner whatever has representation in these congresses.

The Honorary President of the Club, Dr. C. E. Fryer was present, and contributed to a large extent in the success of the evening by his interesting and instructive comment on two topics. The general discussion which followed the two papers, included a talk on current events.

An open meeting of the Club will be held on March 29th, at the University Club, when Dr. D. Gordon J. Laing, Dean of the Faculty of Arts will deliver an address.

massiveness, carry very large deposits of rock down with them in their path. Along the sea coast too disintegration is taking place due to the action of waves.

Thus it is seen that the earth is in a process of creation and evolution. One may look back and see the beginning but there is no sign of the end.

The next phase of the lecture was the study of animal life and its importance in the study of geology. By means of skeletons found in the rocks the period of any strata of the earth's crust can be determined.

Animals have gone through a long period of evolution. It is a far step to the most highly developed mammal, namely man, yet the cause of this development may be clearly traced.

The animals progressed from the single cell, to the jelly fish, to the fish, to the fish with lungs, to amphibians, to reptiles, to birds, to mammals and finally to man.

Thus it is seen that the period of any strata of the earth's crust may be determined by the animals of that period but it is impossible to determine the geological time of these periods. The most accurate method of determining the geological time is by means of the phenomena exhibited by radio activity. By this means it has been shown that the earth's crust is at least one thousand million years old.

Astronomically the earth is a very insignificant part of the solar system. Originally it was part of a very much larger body. It was broken away from this body and gradually cooled down. Water condensed on it to form the sea and the land rose out of the sea. This was the birth of the earth. Whether or not it is proceeding on to its death is unknown.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks being rendered Dr. Adams for the extremely interesting lecture.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Daily is not responsible for the sentiments of letters published in the correspondence columns. Signed communication from graduates, undergraduates and members of the faculty will be placed in print if they are not of too great length.

Correspondents are requested to observe the unwritten law of the newspaper office—that they write upon ONE SIDE of the paper ONLY.

No communication will be admitted in this column without the name of the writer being attached, not necessarily for PUBLICATION.

The Editor,
 McGill Daily.

Sir:— I would like to take this means of satisfying the Students' Society as to the reason for the interruption in the Daily's publication. Likewise to assure the Society that the rumours that have somehow been stirred up with vexing exaggeration are both unfounded and contrary to fact.

To refute these rumours at the outset, the Daily is clear of all debt. The interruption was preventative. Rearrangements completed in the interval have placed the Daily on a safe and sound working basis once more. Regrettable incidents have occurred in the advertising administration on the paper: the Council did its best to put an immediate check on matters in that direction. The check was effective insofar as it could go, but remedial efforts could not undo what was done. A change in the administration was made to the satisfaction of the Council, but the burden under the then-existing circumstances was too much for the new administration to finance. The general advertising-tightness now prevalent in the city—an advertising-field that has been approached by so many McGill publications that it is worn out by the stream of over-lapping canvassers, all selling "McGill" to them; over and above all the outstanding promises to pay on account of their contribution to the McGill Financial Drive that the merchants exhibit as their reason for refusing to expend more to McGill—these factors proved too big a burden on the individual who undertook to shoulder the financial responsibility of the Daily since the New Year. High operating expenses could not be continued under the existing circumstances. Matters eventually came to a head. New arrangements were imperative and until their completion publication was necessarily suspended.

The situation that has just been overcome goes to emphasize the importance of our advertisers to the working of the Daily and consequently to the welfare of student affairs. The need for the centralization of McGill advertising control and the necessity of advising every advertiser from whom you purchase that you are from McGill and want him to know it, will both be conducive to the best workings of the student-paper. They are certainly matters for the consideration of every member of the Students' Society who has the interests of the McGill Daily at heart.

Truly yours,
 Wm. F. MacKlaier,
 President, McGill Daily.

The Editor,
 McGill Daily.

Dear Sir, I have read with much interest the letters appearing recently by "Internationalist" and "Free Thinker" suggesting the formation of a club to provide membership for men of every country, colour, and creed in connection with the University.

While the multiplicity of organizations already in operation keep one full occupied I think the proposal above referred to is particularly pleasing and warrants the serious consideration of all students who are deeply interested in the subject of International Friendship.

There can be little doubt that the Sectional Clubs are in existence for the purpose of uniting men of common interests, to provide companionship, and to keep them in touch with their own particular province and future sphere of labour.

The object of the organization that I now suggested would be entirely different and would bring together men, who by birth and training are violent, at variance in their views.

In spite of the enlightenment of our times and the serious attempts on the part of the Statesmen of every land to promote peace, fraternity, and goodwill, it is astonishing how much intolerance yet exists through lack of understanding.

During four years residence at Wesleyan I have been greatly privileged to meet men of many nationalities, and their silent contribution to my own life and character is a matter for which I shall ever feel truly grateful. We have had within our walls men from countries far apart; contact with the Hebrew, the Italian, the Indian, and the Ceylonese has greatly enriched our minds and placed us on a higher plain of life.

If we could weave into our common life the best that each race provides we would find unspeakable advantage by our mingling together.

I trust "Internationalist" and "Free Thinker" may withdraw the veil of their hidden identity and form a plan to give concrete expression to their most worthy wishes.

PEPYS AT MCGILL

Thursday, Feb. 16th.—Up pretty betimes and to the colleges, where I did very soon fall into the clutches of a certain most insistent fellow, by name Hall Enthuse, who would have me that I should go a-skeeing with him upon the mountain top that very day and hour, and would put up with none of my readings anent my complete ignorance of this native art. After a deal of interrupting I centred to get me the stay one day to the end that I might hire out a pair of these same skies, and so be down with me to Saint Catherine street a little after noon, there to the chusing of them. So on the morrow I shall join myself to the body of skiers, and very glad I am that I have one with me to direct me in all things, in that I have no wish for a repitition of the day when I had endeavoured to teach myself snow-booting to the great mirth and rebaldry of a vast throng of citizens along Sherbrooke street. So home and in the evening to His Majesty's Playhouse, where I did see a very hair-raising thing, by name the "Bat", very prettily done; nor was ever so wrought upon in all my life, with such a vast deal of bloody arms thrust through the arras, and firing off of horse-pistols and murtherings unending, and in truth were a wise thing for any man who intended it to turn his thoughts therefrom on his retiring or he is like to be flitted by the most horrific megrims and nightmares by his sleep. To this end I do intend to read a little in Mr. Alexander Pope, his Essay on Man before I betake me to my truckle-bed this night, which thing I have ever found to be more potent even than mulled ale for the most absolute drowsing of the senses.

TO MARSE HENRY

'There's a bonny flag a'waivin'

Eagerly awaiting the opportunity to give my humble, but very earnest and enthusiastic support to such a scheme.
 Yours faithfully,

VARSITY SIX HERE FOR CRUCIAL HOCKEY MATCH

McGill Team Is Confident of Evening Up Matters With Blue and White in Tonight's Contest—Flanagan Has Fully Recovered—Team in Excellent Condition

The University of Toronto hockey team arrived here this morning, to engage in the intercollegiate hockey match to which McGill followers have looked forward with a great deal of interest for many months.

Tonight's contest is the most crucial of the season. A victory for the visitors brings to the Toronto institution the Intercollegiate championship while a win for the Red and White practically assures a play off between the two ancient rivals. The prospects of a McGill victory are far more encouraging than they were before the first game at Toronto. The strength of the wing-line has been considerably bolstered by the return of Behan to the squad. Ted's appearance in the line-up has steadied the team and his stickhandling has caused McGill's opponents no end of uneasiness. Besides the veteran forward is perhaps the surest shot on the team. In the two games in which he has performed, "Ted" has tallied four goals, and Flanagan, whose injured shoulder has kept him off the ice during the greater part of the last two games, is again back to form, and the Montreal public will for the first time this year have the opportunity of seeing "Flin" at his best. It is an axiom in McGill athletic circles that Flanagan, no matter what his condition, always furnishes a scare to his rivals, in any McGill-Varsity contest.

Anderson, at centre, is enjoying the best season of his career. "Boo" is speedier than ever, and is perhaps the most consistent performer on the squad. His shooting has improved considerably since the beginning of the season. His two goals in the U. of M. game showed that the sturdy centre is very dangerous man.

Matty Dineen, Dempsey and McGerrigle are all in tip top form and can be relied upon to put up the same brand of hockey that they have consistently displayed this season. The ability of Captain Walter Stenson to ward off the Varsity attacks is causing no one any serious concern. Walter is a very cool goaltender and has proved it in every game this season.

The Blue and White is represented by its full force of stickhandlers. Captain Jack Langtry, who is considered by many the best net-tender in amateur ranks, and who during the past three years has prevented many a McGill goal by his spectacular performance will be in his usual position. The Blue and White boasts of the fastest defence in Canada. In "Stan" Brown and Beattie Ramsay, they have as speedy a pair of puck chasers as is to be found in college circles anywhere in the Dominion. But while these men are superior to the McGill men on the offensive, their defensive work is perhaps not up to the rank of that shown by the Red and White. In the recent McGill-Varsity match at Toronto the forwards succeeded many times in skating around the defence, and on a number of occasions edged in between them, but weakness in shooting accounted for the inability of the McGill team to pile up a lead. Flanagan, however, succeeded in fooling the defence quite frequently and three times sent the puck into the net.

Varsity has a well balanced wing-line. Carson, who has been the mainstay of the Blue and White team for three years will probably start opposite Anderson. Hudson, who was mainly responsible for the Toronto victory in the first game will occupy one of the wings while either Westman, the husky gridiron star or "Ned" Wright will start at the other forward position. Beattie and Plaxton with Sullivan, as substitute goalers make up the complete visiting party.

The arena management has announced the largest advance sale of the season, as interest in the contest has been running high throughout the city. The game will start promptly at 8.15 in order to enable the Varsity team to make the train back to Toronto tonight.

R.V.C. BASKETBALL CAPTURED LAURELS

First and Second Teams Met Macdonald

On Wednesday two basketball teams from R.V.C. journeyed out to Macdonald to engage in conflict with the first and second teams of that institution of learning. The score was 54-14 for R.V.C.

The R.V.C. first team showed marked superiority over the Mac team, both in speed and combination. Their opponents appeared to find it almost impossible to intercept their passes. The Mac forwards played up well when they got the ball into their hands, but Fraser seldom missed the ball at centre.

Toward the end the play became less open and more confused, with many fumbles. Both R.V.C. forwards showed up well, Leggett scoring some brilliant long shots. Miss Clelland and Miss Lafferty were Macdonald's stars, Lafferty being responsible for the breaking of many R.V.C. combination plays.

The game on the whole however was not up to the usual pace maintained by the R.V.C. teams. The final score was 54-14 for R.V.C.

The line-up was:

Macs	R.V.C.
Forward	Forward
Clelland	J. Spier
Lemesurier	M. Leggett
Centre	Centre
Laing	G. Fraser
Lafferty	D. Russell
Blackford	Z. Slack
Guard	Guard
Mille	L. Shlakman

The second team game was slower than that of the first team, but it was nevertheless much closer. The play was somewhat marred by fumbling and falling on the part of both teams. The R.V.C. however got in some effective passing from beneath the basket of Macdonald through the guards and centres to the forwards, who made good use of their opportunities. Miss Murray caused many gasps with her spectacular long shots. The whole team played together well, and it is difficult to single out outstanding players.

Miss Phelps played the best game for Macdonald, but this game also showed their lack of combination, which detracted from their speed.

The game ended with a score of 19-14 for R.V.C.

COMM. VICTORS OVER MEDS.

Are Now at the Top of the League

At 5.15 yesterday afternoon Commerce All-Stars defeated Medicine All-Stars 3-2. The game was fast and the teams evenly matched. A few minutes after the start Martin tallied for Commerce and shortly afterwards Menzies of Medicine evened up the count. Martin scored another on a lone rush, stick-handling his way past several of the opposing team and through the defence. In the second period Robertson of Commerce out his team one more ahead and Parlow of Medicine then tallied. In the last few minutes Medicine were playing their five men on the forward line and were bombarding the Commerce net. Only the good work of Drummond in the nets saved Medicine from evening up the score. Menzies and Boyle were the best of the users, while Martin and Galley starred for the business men. Commerce played without their captain and star centre, Stearns, but Martin ably filled that position. The line-up was as follows:

Com. Reds	Med. Whites
Goal	Goal
Drummond	Harris
Defence	Defence
Robertson	Menzies
Goldie	McKinnon
Centre	Centre
Martin	Boyle
Wings	Wings
Murphy	Parlow
Galley	Lanthier
Spares	Spares
Montgomery	Hamilton
Lazier	Mehan
	McNally

Referee—Rainnie.

As Medicine defeated Macdonald College 2-0 on Monday, and Arts tied Science 3-3 on Tuesday, Commerce is now at the top of the league, having won two games and tied one with no defeats.

A LETTER TO HER

While the cold north wind is whistling
Down the Severn and 'cross the Bay,
I'd like to find a fireside
With you beside me to say—
"Love me, Bill?"—and my answer
Would choke in my throat once more,
And I'd look in your eyes and see the light

Of love more than ever before.

In our dreams we'll sit on the pillows,
In front of that warm open fire
And the world will be peaceful about us

With the snow as its quiet attire
And we'll look in the flames as they sparkle,
For our future may it be clear so bright,

While the fire may go out any moment
Our love lasts forever — Good Night.

MCGILL MEN OUT TO WIN THE ASSAULT

B. W. & F. Team Off to Toronto

CHANCES BRIGHT

Have Best Balanced Team in Years

Confident that tomorrow will see McGill the Winner of the Intercollegiate Assault at Arms, the B. W. and F. squad left last night for Toronto there to try conclusions with the Varsity and Queens representatives. Not for many years has as well balanced a team represented McGill in this branch of sport. With the exception of one, or possibly two classes, the team is made up of exceptionally strong men, who are all well versed in ringcraft, and have the advantage of several years experience behind them. The practice bouts of the last few days, and the successes of both wrestlers and boxers against teams containing men of championship calibre, has instilled a feeling of quiet confidence into the members of the team, which will go far towards offsetting the disadvantage of performing in a strange ring.

McGill students need no introduction to the personnel of the team, all of them having performed at the inter-faculty competition, and on numerous other occasions, but a word or two on the outstanding members might perhaps not be out of place. "Windy" Brewer came before the eyes of the student body, when he won the college and also the Intercollegiate 145-pound championship last year, after a most thrilling bout. Since then he has had little difficulty in winning against any opponents around this city. Frank Shackell is another Intercollegiate champion, and this season has been doing exceptionally well. His win last Saturday over Light of the M.C.A.A., was especially gratifying. Abinovich, 158 lbs., and Graham, 125 lbs., are two men who have been improving steadily and may be almost counted on as sure bets at Toronto.

Among the Wrestlers, Dave McKee, twice Intercollegiate heavyweight champion will no doubt be out to do the hat trick, and on the form he has shown this season has a very good chance of doing so. The remainder of the wrestling team, with the exception of Matthews, are representing McGill at the Assault at Arms on the first time, but all of them have shown their worth on frequent occasions this season, in Ottawa, Cornell and Syracuse and so are by no means novices.

The two fencers chosen to accompany the team are Feilding and Crestohl. Crestohl was on the team last year, while Feilding is a fencer of many years experience and no little skill.

Taken all in all the chances look very bright for a victory for the Red and White, squad, who if "dope" counts for anything should bring home the bacon.

Wrestlers—
110 lb. class, Andrews.
118 lb. class, Macdonald.
125 lb. class, Matthews.
135 lb. class, Currie.
145 lb. class, Cohen.
158 lb. class, Armstrong.
175 lb. class, McKee.
Heavyweight, McKee.
Fencers—
110 lb. class, Schleiffer.
118 lb. class, Fullerton.
125 lb. class, Graham.
135 lb. class, Shackell.
145 lb. class, Brewer.
158 lb. class, Abinovich.
175 lb. class, Connor.
Heavyweight, Foss.
Fencers, Feilding and Crestohl.

A SKI-ING ACCIDENT

An unfortunate mishap occurred yesterday when Duncan Anderson, of Law '24, hurt himself while ski-jumping. He was trying the senior jump and in landing suffered injuries to his head which rendered him unconscious and necessitated his being taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital for a dressing. Late last night his condition was reported as being much improved, and it is not expected that he will be incapacitated for any length of time.

MCGILL TO HOLD MEET NEXT WEEK

American Colleges Sending Teams

NOTED JUMPERS

Ski and Snowshoe Clubs Plan Big Carnival

If the McGill Winter Carnival next week is going to be anything like the success that the Dartmouth Outing Club held a week ago the people of Montreal are going to see some close races and exciting ski jumping. For the Carnival to be staged here, invitations have been sent to Dartmouth, Williams, Vermont, Middlebury and other organizations in Canada and the States.

The rivalry shown at the New Hampshire meet was very keen and the Red and White were nosed out by the Dartmouth boys by the score of 25 1-2 to 23 1-2; yet in the sheer number of races won, the Montreals were greatly superior; but owing to the fact that some events did not count for points, it gave the second team the privilege of coming home to Canada with no fewer than eight cups.

The ski jumping in the States was something out of the ordinary. The new jump at Hanover is a great asset to the skier. It presents a towering appearance to the observer from beneath while the great speed it gives the jumper is obvious to the spectators when he looks down from the top. The best distance made this year was by Johnny Carlton of the Dartmouth Outing Club, who covered 122 feet. The number of men who are becoming noted for the famous somersault on skis at that college is outstanding. Before some 3,000 spectators last Saturday Bowler and a companion made a beautiful exhibition, which will be repeated in Montreal a week from tomorrow.

During the entire meet there was an absence of any type of stretched rivalry, while the hospitality shown was of the finest. It is the duty of every student here to back up the McGill winter meet with all force and while the American scholars are in this metropolis give them a lively time. A brief account of the last week's meet follows:

220-Yard Ski Dash—Carlton, Dartmouth; Foss, McGill; Forbush, Dartmouth.

220-Yard Snowshoe Dash—Anderson, McGill; Robinson, Middlebury; Davis, McGill.

Ski Proficiency—Sherrard, McGill; Carlton, Dartmouth; Stewart, Dartmouth; Glen, McGill.

*Ski-Snowshoe Medley Relay—McGill (Elliot Egerton); Middlebury, Dartmouth.

Half Mile Ski Relay—McGill (Glen Foss, Lane, Whitall) Vermont, Dartmouth.

8 Miles, Ski—Carlton, Dartmouth; Bowler, Dartmouth; Desbarrets, McGill.

*Snowshoe Obstacle—Anderson, McGill; Robinson, Middlebury, Vermont.

*Ski Obstacle—Edson, Dartmouth; Greene, Williams; Edlund, Vermont.

Snowshoe 2 Miles—Cole, Middlebury; Anderson, McGill; Hadlock, Dartmouth.

Jumping—Frost, Dartmouth; LaBelle, Ottawa; Carlton, Dartmouth. Total points—Dartmouth, 25 1-2; McGill, 23 1-2; Middlebury, 8; Ottawa, 3; Vermont, 3; Williams none.

Events marked by star did not count for points.

BASKETEERS EXPECT WIN ON SATURDAY

Hope to Avenge Former Defeat by Varsity

BIG IMPROVEMENT

"Bones" Little Only Member of Squad on Hospital List

Vengeance has been the foremost thought in the minds of the basketball squad since their defeat at the hands of the Varsity quintette several weeks ago. Their many faults were brought to light on this occasion, and for many days Coach Fox has been trying to rectify these imperfections. To this end he has had the squad working constantly and in order that they have no chance to get stale before the big game on Saturday he has had them out every night this week. Evidently their progress has been remarkable, for it has been noticed during the last few days that the coach has departed from his usual custom and now wears a broad grin. No better proof of their proficiency is necessary.

Poor gymnasium facilities have hampered the basketball teams of recent years and this season has been no exception. The team has had a great deal to put up with and on many occasions risked their lives on a slippery floor at the Highlanders' Armory. However, no complaints have been heard from their ranks and these difficulties have tended to improve rather than impair their style.

Furnishing the second surprise to come from Queen's this season, the Presbyterian basketballers last Saturday handed Varsity the small end of a 35-26 score. This victory of the Tri-Color furnishes a peculiar situation, inasmuch as the McGill team defeated the Kingstonians by a margin of thirteen points, holding them down to three field baskets, while the Blue and White squad gave McGill a 38-13 beating, on their last encounter.

Such is the present situation and the representatives of the Red and White are out to redeem themselves on Saturday. They will not have it all their own way in regards to this as it is known that Varsity is also out to redeem their recent defeat and to quote "The Varsity"—"The Blue and White are certainly surprised at their defeat at the hands of Queen's on Saturday last, but are far from daunted at the reverse. They still lead the league, and fully intend to clinch Intercollegiate honors by defeating McGill in Montreal next Saturday."

Both individually and collectively, with one exception, the members of the team are at their best. Unfortunately the trusty "Bones" Little gave his troublesome ankle another twist last night and is likely out of the game for the season. Previous to this year "Bones" was the star forward of the squad and it is regrettable that he will not be out on Saturday.

However, there is no dearth of excellent material for the forward line. "Cece" Hoy will likely hold down his position at centre and can be trusted to give a good account of himself. "Art" Marson's eagle eye has been trained on the baskets for many a day, and it is expected that he will add a considerable number of points

INTERMEDIATE SWIMMING MEET AT Y. M. C. A. TONIGHT

'Varsity and McGill Swimmers to Compete at 8.30 P.M.—Chances Bright for Red and White Even Though Vernot Lost to Team

ARE MAKING PLANS FOR INDOOR TRACK

Meeting of Track Club Executive on Monday

It is entirely probable that there will be a commencement made at indoor track work at the university within the next week. Already tentative plans have been made whereby the gymnasiums and armories can be secured for the practices and meets and it only remains to make out the schedules and groups for the workouts.

A meeting of the Track Club executive is scheduled to take place next Monday at which the whole plans for the winter season will be discussed. The present movement is expected to be the first of a definite set of efforts to make track an all-year-round sport at McGill.

It is likely that an inter-faculty track meet will be held later on in the spring and will be open to all of the students in the university. A few years ago such a meet was held at the Craig street drill hall and proved to be one of the most popular athletic events of the season. There is every reason to believe that a properly conducted meet this year would be every bit as successful.

There have been invitations received every year from American colleges which wished to arrange competitions in the spring with McGill. These all had to be refused with regret because of the long winter here and the fact that there was no accommodation for indoor practice. The beginnings of indoor work may only be the forerunner of a series of meets that would make track a spring sport at McGill.

CHEATING YOURSELF

A fault which is all too common among the college student as well as among others and which is insidious in its nature, is the desire to "get by" and nothing more, thereby cheating himself and others.

A common form of conversation on the campus is the putting to an individual the question as to how he is progressing along a certain line, and the answer that he is "getting by" and that is all he is interested in anyway. Particularly does this apply to the passing of academic courses. An alarmingly large number of the students are entirely serene and perfectly satisfied if they are receiving a mark which is barely passing and which enables them to put up an air of respectability as far as their school work is concerned.

Habits formed in college are not easily shaken off in after life, and if there is any thing which dooms one to defeat in the business and professional world, it is satisfaction in mere idea of self interest should be a factor in making the student wish to get all he could out of educational facilities which someone else is largely furnishing for him.—University Daily Kansan.

to his already high aggregate. "Big" Laishley and Turpel will also, as in the past, acquit themselves nobly.

One of the fastest working defences which has represented McGill in years is to be found in the present guards, namely Crain and Mendelssohn. These two work wonderfully together and are all over the floor at one time. The third man, Livshin, has shown up well of late and when used has always played a consistent game.

The hard-working manager, "Joe" Mooney, is well satisfied with his team and, like the coach, has been abnormally cheerful of late. Such optimism is clearly indicative of success, as will be demonstrated at the Highlanders' Armory on Saturday afternoon.

This evening at 8.30 P.M., in the Central 'Y' tank, McGill and University of Toronto representatives will book up in the annual Intercollegiate Swimming Meet. Last year, it will be remembered McGill won the meet in Toronto by a narrow margin. George Vernot was the outstanding man at that time contributing a large number of McGill's points. His enforced absence from the squad this year, will be greatly felt both on the swimming and Polo teams. However, even without Vernot the McGill squad is a very formidable one. Binns, Scott, Laidley, Fisk and Parsons are some of last year's championship team who have been performing very well this season. Fisk it will be remembered holds the Intercollegiate back stroke championship, and has held the Canadian back stroke championship. Parsons and Laidley are swimmers of no mean ability. Laidley's chief forte being the breast stroke, while Parsons is entered for the long plunges as well as being on the Polo team.

The remainder of the team while not so well known to McGill men, have been improving considerably in the last few weeks, and can be counted on to make a good showing tonight. Ross and Kyle, the McGill entries in the speed events, are a pair who bid fair to make up for George Vernot's absence very efficiently. For the relay, the team will have Kyle, Laidley, Fisk, and Ross or Vickerson.

The following are the entries for the various events:

CANADIAN CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Colonel Ham Delivers Interesting Address

The initial meeting of the Canadian Club this session brought out an audience of students that filled all of the available seats at Strathcona Hall and left many standing around the walls. The speaker for the occasion was Colonel Ham, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and he delivered a short address that contained a great deal of humour as well as being a good outline of the work being carried on by the C. P. R.

Colonel Ham is noted as an after-dinner speaker and he lived up to his reputation in this respect by giving several interesting little anecdotes to his listeners. The small beginnings of the builders of the railroad and the difficulties encountered in the early days were the main points touched on by the speaker, who showed the developments since the institution of the road about fifty years ago.

The relative merits of the government and private owned railroads were dwelt upon for a few minutes and the great future possible for the young man entering the railroad business outlined. In connection with the large districts traversed by the C. P. R. Colonel Ham, discussed the peculiarities of some of the peoples and made several amusing references to the prohibition laws and the manner, in which they were being observed in some places.

The speaker was introduced by H. B. O'Heir, the President of the Canadian Club, and a vote of thanks was passed at the conclusion of the meeting.

THEOLOGS PLAYED GOOD BASKETBALL

Congoss Defeated Wesleyans by 24-18

Last night in Molson Hall the Congregational basketball team defeated the Wesleyans by the score of 24-18. The game started at a slow pace, but gradually as the players got warmed up it assumed a pace that was fast and furious. The last period was especially hard fought. The Wesleyans came back strong and displayed some pretty combinations but were unable to overcome the lead that the Congos had set up.

Both teams played rather poor basketball in the beginning of the first period, but the Congos soon got going and outplayed their opponents for the rest of this period. Bronson and Moore both found the basket on long shots for the Congos and although the Wesleyan forwards worked hard to even up the score the first period ended Congos 16, Wesleyans 10.

The second period started at a fast clip and the pace was maintained till the end of the game. Congos seemed to have an advantage at first but Roberts netted two baskets for the Wesleyans and from then on the game was a battle royal with both teams struggling fiercely for supremacy. At one time the Wesleyans were within two points of making the score even, but Bronson scored a field goal, Moore dropped two penalty shots through the basket, and Bronson finally cinched the game by netting another field goal. The game ended Congos 24, Wesleyans 18.

pure. He must not be dominated by one purpose that will dwarf, cripple, or mutilate his manhood, but must be broadminded.

When a boy can fill all these requirements he will be ready to answer the advertisement that hangs over every business door—"Wanted, a man."

Being, as yet, very limited in the knowledge of the exact requirements of a man, I am forced to stop. Fidelity and chivalry are also important ideals to cultivate.

Our social life has a great deal to do with building a man, and under this head our school plays an important part.—West Denver Rodeo.

PLANS FOR UNION HOUSE SMOKER

Many Talented Artists Are to Perform

Negotiations are under way by the Union House Committee to hold another of the famous Union smokers on Thursday, March 2. The committee in charge is endeavoring to obtain talent and to this end several local stars have consented to appear.

These smokers have in the past been one of the best methods of bringing the men of the college together. There is something about the old pipe or the odd bag which gives the place an atmosphere of good fellowship, and for this reason the smokers have been very popular. Moreover, it is seldom that such a galaxy of stars are being obtained as assembled under one roof and this fact alone warrants a large attendance.

Smokes will be there in abundance and—more will be said about the smoker at a near date, but it is advisable in the meantime to keep the night open.

WANTED, A MAN!

In recent platform addresses by students and visitors we have listened to dissertations on aesthetic appreciation, morals, courtesy and what not, all of which are important attributes to complete living.

A man cannot be made by any chemical formula, but must possess within himself a fine adjustment of his existing elements. He must combine them in such a way to make power! Power to be larger than his calling and to find self-development in his occupation. Success is only won under difficulties, and each obstacle must be used by a man as a stepping stone to that success he desires, be it what it may.

A man must have reason or the power to reach conclusions. Teachers have aimed to put knowledge into the mind as we pour water into a vessel, while the power that originates and works up ideas and thoughts into laws and principles has been neglected.

But the man is not alone in his intellect or in his "upper story," but in his entire make up; he is also judged by his personality.

"Hew the block off and get out the man," says Pope. But who in these days of hurry and scurry is going to hew out the man? He must show at the surface. "Nothing hard, if one know not how to will it, nothing easier if one wills it."

A man must also be upright and
